R. W. FURNAS, ESPECIAL A MINERAL DEAR SEE-One of the stockholders in th Bank of Florence has arrived, and brings glad tidings in reference to the Railroad in the direction to this place. He assures our citizens that there is but little doubt of the road being located down the Pigeon Valley to its intersection with the Missouri valley at Crescent

The roads are now in good condition for traveling, and our ride over the level bottom to Crescent was very pleasant. There we found the improvements, and business far beyond our most sanguine expectations. This exotic plant, known as Sorghum Saccharatum, recently introduced into this country by the Patent Office, may be cultivated to advantage in every part of the United States. Is will make a good crop on the secrest soil. From experiments already made in syrup making from the juice of this plant, I fully believe that segar can be profitably made; at any rate, it is worth a trial by every farmer.
